

Image & Narrative, issue 10 & 11 (publication scheduled March-May 2005)

The Visualization of the Subaltern in World Music. On Musical Contestation Strategies

Guest editor: Bart Vanspauwen, Institute for Cultural Studies, Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium

Contributors:

Issue 10

Bart Vanspauwen (Catholic University of Leuven)

Visualization of subliminal strategies in world music. An ethnomusicological analysis of socio-cultural transformations through maracatu and manguê beat in the city of Recife, Pernambuco, Brazil

Jesse Samba Wheeler (University of California at Los Angeles)

Rumba Lingala as Colonial Resistance

Nanette de Jong (Rutgers University)

'We Are Who We Believe Ourselves to Be': Curaçao Jazz and the Expression of Identity

Derek Pardue (Union College)

Brazilian Hip-Hop Material and Ideology: a Case of Cultural Design

Else R. P. Vieira (Queen Mary, University of London)

Sem Terra/ Desterrados: The Music of Dissent of the MST in Dialogue with the Tango Culture

Michael L. Naylor (Washtenaw Community College, Wayne State University)

Heeding the Creole Voice (in the Seychelles Islands): Alternatives to race and nation as identifiers of cultural value

Kirsten Zemke-White (University of Auckland)

'How many dudes you know roll like this?': the re-presentation of hip hop tropes in New Zealand rap music

(in review section)

Roald Maliangkay (University of Amsterdam)

Classifying Performances: The Art of Korean Film Narrators

Issue 11

Samuel Furé Davis (Universidad de la Habana)

Lyrical Subversion in Cuban Reggae

Tanya Merchant (University of California at Los Angeles)

Identity and Exoticism in Sevara Nazarkhan's Yol Bolsin

Loretta Collins Klobah (University of Puerto Rico)

Ribbon shirts in Rasta colors: Native American syncretic musical and visual strategies of (Jamaican) resistance in the lyrical imagery, performance costuming, and CD jacket art of Hopi/ Diné reggae singjay Casper Loma-Da-Wa

Koen Stroeken (Catholic University of Leuven)

This is not a haircut. Neo-liberalism and revolt in Kiswahili rap

Kristen E. Cheney (University of California at Santa Cruz)

Claiming Children's Rights: Children and the 'Culture of Constitutionalism' in Uganda's Primary School Music Festivals

(in review section)

Eduardo França Paiva (Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais)

Africans in Portuguese America. Crossroads between worlds and practices of anti-globalisation